

John and Denise May have been married for 31 years and share a passion for ministry and family. They met at Southeastern University and have since built a life of service together.

John served as the Associate/Youth Pastor at Culpeper Assembly of God in Culpeper, VA for 6 years, followed by becoming one of the first Youth Alive Directors in the country. He has spent 13 years as a Network Director and currently serves as the Church Ministries Director for the Potomac Ministry Network, a role he has held since 2018. John is also a seasoned speaker and coach, dedicated to equipping and mentoring young leaders.

Denise has been an elementary school teacher for 27 years and is also an author and speaker. She has a heart for sharing her wisdom with others and works alongside John in ministry. Together, they have raised two children—Reagan, a registered nurse married to youth pastor Kyle Hogan, and Ryder, who is also serving as a youth pastor.

The Mays enjoy spending time with their family, especially on vacations to the beach. They also love taking long walks, enjoying great food, and relaxing together while watching Sunday afternoon football. Their lives reflect a deep commitment to faith, family, and nurturing the next generation of leaders.
